The Thoroughbreds, of Lexington, forfeited the game to the Lawmakers here Tuesday afternoon in the last half of the sixth inning by a score of 9 to 0. Up to this time the boys from Lexington had failed to cross the home plate, while Kennedy's sluggers had made three runs. Second baseman Steele landed a good long fly to right field, which Sheets missed, and which was two feet inside of the fair line, but the Lexington bunch claimed it was a foul, and they at once proceeded to raise a great big howl. Umpire Newman called it a fair ball. Manager Sheets was ordered off the diamond but he refused to go, and the Umpire called Officer Reagan, who escorted him to the bench. Right here it looked like there was going to be something doing, as the captain of the Lexington boys called his men from the field and for a few minutes great excitement prevailed. Nearly every fan at the park crowded around Umpire Newman and told him that he had made the right decision and they stood ready to back him up at all hazards.

"Little Dick" Crutcher was on the firing line for the Lawmakers and he had the boys guessing at all stages of the game. Caudill, pitched under the name of Turner for Lexington and he was there with the goods.

By forfeiting the game the Thoroughbreds lose the $25 they were to receive from the Lawmakers and are also subject to a fine of $25. This matter will probably be brought up before the managers of the Blue Grass League at a meeting here Sunday.

It took the sporting editor of the Anderson News two columns to tell how the Lawmakers defeated the Distillers here last week. They claim that they were robbed of the victory by Umpire Newman's raw decisions. We can't agree with the Lawrenceburg bunch. The fact is that the Lawmakers are as far superior to the Distillers as a dray horse is to a thoroughbred, and they were simply outclassed at every stage of the game. There is no better umpire in the State than Tommy Gainey Newman, and he knows the game from beginning to end, and we believe he is conscientious in all of his rulings, no matter who it hurts. When the visiting clubs think they can hand him a lemon, right there they are badly fooled. Some of the teams of the Blue Grass League have got a lot of has-beens trying to play ball and simply because we out-class them they try and lay the blame on our umpire. Tommy has forgotten more base ball than half of these rubes will ever know and the sooner they find this out the better it will be for them.

The Richmond Pioneers went down in defeat here Sunday afternoon at the hands of the Lawmakers by a score of 2 to 1, before the largest and most enthusiastic crowd that ever attended a game in this city. Both clubs played big league ball from beginning to the end and both Golden and Cornell pitched superb ball and were given fine support. Up to the ninth inning it looked as though the Pioneers would win, but our boys braced up and won the game with ease in the last half of this inning. This was by far the best and most interesting game that has ever been played on the local diamond, only one error being made during the entire game. There was some comment made on the ruling of Umpire Newman on a passed ball, some claim that it was a foul while others say that it was not. The umpire says he did not hear it tip and called it a strike. If it was a foul why did the Richmond catcher attempt to put the runner out? If the catcher did not hear the ball tip the bat who on earth could hear it?

The Shelbyville boys will be here Sunday with their new team and they say that they are out for blood and are going to make Frankfort look like monkeys. The Lawmakers are not asleep by a long shot and have put in a great deal of their time this week getting our boys in shape for this game and are ready to give them a warm reception. The fans of Shelbyville will run a special train here on that day and say they will bring between five hundred and a thousand rooters to help win the game. "Old Hutch" says he will have his gang of local rooters in good trim by that time and will show the boys from Shelbyville how to root some.

"Lexington knew she was going against a hard proposition when she played Frankfort yesterday, but did not think she would have to play ten men—nine good ball players and one umpire, who outclassed all the rest of the Frankfort aggregation," said a Lexington fan who saw the game yesterday—Lexington Herald.

We will agree with the wild and woolly fan from Lexington that they had a hard proposition and nine GOOD ball players to go up against, but when it comes to the umpire we will have to call his hand. Umpire Newman called what the Lexington "bullies" claimed a foul a fair ball and by actual measurement it was 22 1/2 inches inside of the fair line. Every time the "guys" from Lexington are defeated they put up a howl that they were robbed by the umpire. The fact is they are simply outclassed by every team in the Blue Grass League and they attempt to bully their opponents at any and all times. The best thing Lexington can do is to quit kicking and get a ball team.

"One Lexington man was willing to bet $100 to $10 and leave it to any honest person in Frankfort that the Umpire Newman called fair was a foul," says the Lexington Herald, and it was strange his bet was not taken. We don't know who it was that gave the sporting editor of the Herald this dope, but we do know that no such bet was offered, as there were hundreds who would have taken it, and besides presented the man with a new suit of clothes, that was foolish enough to make such a bet.

In a slugging match Monday Shelbyville defeated Richmond by the score of 8 to 6. Shelbyville had the game with ease until the ninth inning when Hemphill walked two men, which with a couple of hits scored four runs for Richmond. The features of the game was the batting and base running of Kraher and A. Long and also the fielding of P. Long and Varnadore and Kraher for Shelbyville.

The Thoroughbreds of Lexington can outshine any team in the State of Kentucky when it comes to kicking. They have a very inferior team and they attempt to take their games by bullying others, but they certainly have their little game called when they tackle "Chick's" sluggers.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bluegrass League will be held here Sunday. There are several important matters to come up, the principal one being in regard to the Versailles franchise. It is impossible for the Aristocrats to hold on any longer, and both Paris and Winchester want their place. It looks now like Winchester will land it.

"Red" Bohannon will be here for Sunday's game, and will probably wear the Lawmakers' uniform the rest of the season.

Manager of the Shelbyville team sent to Chicago for a pitcher to pitch the game here Sunday. It is said that he is an ex-leaguer, and is there with the goods. Cornell says it doesn't matter who they place in the box—he will take them into camp with all ease.

The manager of the Lawmakers has been notified that the game here between the Richmond and Frankfort clubs last Sunday and the Lexington game Tuesday have been protested. The protests will come up before a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bluegrass League at a meeting here Sunday morning at 10:30. Shelbyville, Lawrenceburg and Versailles teams and President Hammond will decide who was right. Both kicks, it is said, were made upon the rulings of Umpire Newman.

The Belle Point base ball club will play the Glass Blowers of Thorn Hill Sunday. These teams are about evenly matched and a good game is anticipated.

GOV. COX'S RUN

Down In Defeat.

HUNTSMAN'S RUNNING THE FEATURE

Two teams, composed of determined men, each filled with a strong desire to win and battling to the best of their ability for the honors of the day, played a game of base ball Thursday afternoon at Glenwood Park. The teams represented the State officials and the officials of Frankfort and Franklin county. The State officials won by a score of 21 to 20, but they had the fight of their lives and but for Lee Huntsman and his brilliant running, and Gov. Cox's slugging and sprinting, the game would have gone to the locals. A large crowd saw the game, which was played for the benefit of the King's Daughters Hospital, and a neat sum was realized for that worthy cause. The score is a fair indication of the game but the errors really were not plentiful and there was some good playing done.

Lee Huntsman was the feature of the game, unquestionably. Nothing like his running was ever seen anywhere. His legs looked like he was making fifty miles an hour, but his body did not travel faster than four miles when he was going at top speed. Mr. Huntsman is a clerk in the Auditor's office. He is short and not thin. Also his legs are not long—in fact, they are short. When he sets ore down, in running, it is advanced only an inch or so and to get anywhere at all Mr. Huntsman has to pick up his feet about six times as fast as any ordinary long-legged man, and he can pick up those feet pretty fast. He actually stole home once in the game. How he did it has not yet been discovered, but he did it. He tried it again later on but was thrown out. Mr. Huntsman played only three innings, but in those three innings he made the circuit of the bases three times and then retired from the game, spent and incapacitated from further effort. He sank down by the water bucket and drank ice water for half an hour.

The game was interesting for there was almost always a chance for either team to win, and the players were trying to win all the time. They did not loaf along through the game and they did not play without enthusiasm but were out for blood all the time. Morgan Chinn umpired in faultless style and there were no kicks on his decisions. The crowd was impartial in its rooting, being about equally divided between them and some of the players for the team which was at fault. To give the game in detail and tell how each run was made would require five columns and not to tell how all were made would not be fair to the others. Gov. Cox played right field in good style. He did not have any chances, but he looked well in his white uniform. He did get two good hits and scored one run, that run being important for it was needed to win the game. Gov. Cox played a game of baseball in Frankfort thirty-three years ago, and played well, in those days being one of the best amateur ball players in the State. He is not so good now, but he still is active and ran from second to home on Angermeier's long hit Thursday without pegging out entirely. That is a good long run and Gov. Cox said it seemed a mile to him before he arrived at the home plate. The following is the tabulated score of the game:
